With the first round of Theatresports™ 2011 playing to sell-out audiences in May, IMPRO MELBOURNE asks you to “Batter up!” for Round Two! Every Sunday night in October, join the league as four teams of improvisors battle it out in an exhilarating and hilarious display of improvised theatre. Now in its 26th year in Melbourne, Theatresports™ has been entertaining family audiences longer than any other competitive sport* and isn’t shying away from delivering again! Grab a popcorn, suck on a coke and bear witness throughout October as teams go head-to-head to reach the glory and majesty of the Grand Final on the 30th. May the best team win!

“...packed with laughs, outrageously funny moments and astonishing creativity.” – Herald Sun

Pre-season training has included trips interstate to compete against some of Australia’s finest improvisors, with IMPRO MELBOURNE players returning home brandishing finely tuned tactics and skills to use in this epic arena. Laugh as the Quarterback throws a jaw dropping deep pass to the Tight End. Chuckle when the Small Forward scores a free innuendo from the foul line. And guffaw as the Second Baseman entertains the crowd with a Hidden Ball Trick. It doesn’t get anymore sporting and theatrical than Theatresports™!

IMPRO MELBOURNE regulars include some of Australia’s fastest and most furious talent: Jason Geary (National Theatresports™ Champion 2010), Patti Stiles (International ‘Queen of Impro’ and National Theatresports™ Champion 2010), Liam Amor (National Theatresports™ Champion 2009), Rama Nicholas (National Theatresports™ Champion 2009), Jimmy James Eaton (National Improvisor Best and Fairest 2009), Michelle Nussey (National Theatresports™ Champion 2010), Sarah Kinsella (Victorian Theatresports™ Champion 2010), Mark Gambino (Victorian Theatresports™ Champion 2010) and Amanda Buckley (Sydney Theatresports™ Cranston Cup Champion 2010).
